

FIG - VP

Package: Circa £90,000 + Bonus

Location: London

Summary:

International Investment Bank with a strong reputation in the FIG space requires a Vice President to join the London team.

Job description:

International Investment Bank with a strong global brand requires an experienced FIG banker to join the London office as a Vice President. With the continued activity in the Financial Institutions space, the team requires further support to lead executions.

You will need to be an experienced FIG coverage banker or M&A banker with good exposure to transactions within the FIG space. A strong execution track record and developed relationships within the sector are essential for this opportunity.

Ideally you will have exposure to a large range of transactions covering everything from banking through to insurance and asset management. Product specialists with a pure focus on a specific sub sector would also be suitable. A second European language would be beneficial but not essential.
