

Equity Derivatives sales to Corporates

Package: £150K – £200K base + bonus

Location: London, UK

Summary:

VP/Director level Equity Derivatives Sales specialist with broad experience of selling equity derivatives to European Corporate clients.

Job description:

One of the top five Equity Derivatives Houses is expanding their corporate coverage desk in London.

This is a great opportunity for a senior level derivatives specialist to join one of the front runners in this competitive field. An in-depth knowledge and understanding of derivative structures is paramount and structuring experience is a big plus. Sales/structuring experience across other asset classes is also desirable.

A current European Corporate Client list is an absolute pre-requisite.

Fluent French and German language skills will be a big advantage
