Job description:

US Investment Bank requires a VP to join their Industrials coverage team based in London. The bank has a global industrials business with over 150 bankers located in London, New York, and South East Asia and due to a dramatic increase in deal flow the firm is looking for an experienced M&A execution banker to manage buy and sell side projects from cradle to grave. Experience in Industrials is not essential however you will need to be capable of leading the execution phases, mentoring and managing junior member of staff as well as acting as a main client point of contact on any transactional issues.

Experience in industrials is not essential but you will need to have proven experience in leading deal processes for large M&A projects. We are interested in candidates who are interested in a change of sector coverage, step up in deal size, broader geographic coverage, promotion from senior associate, or simply the opportunity to move to a larger franchise with a stronger track record in this sector.
